What's the best device to watch movie? It's gonna be iPad. With the retina screen on the latest version of iPad, people can get extreme wonderful experience when watching a movie on iPad. iTunes store is known as its large capacity of videos and songs, but unfortunately they are charging and sometimes a bit expensive.

So here I collected some sites which offers free movie download. (Note: Sometimes there are piracy movies in these sites, please identify the copyright risk yourself.)

YIFY

This team is pretty famous in PirateBay, they are famous for the excellent computer skills. In general, they can provide a 720P movie with less than 1GB in size. And they are offering movies totally free, there are no watermarks or ads in the video.

Hydronite

Another wonderful site just like YIFY, the only flaw is they require user to register to get the videos. And another shortage is people must install a tool called "Graboid" to download a moive. According to their description, this tool is similar with emule or kazaas.

I regard it as the Wikipedia in media area, it collects 1,356,392 movies, 119,084 concerts, 1,682,646 recordings and 4,738,239 texts for now. Many videos collected by this site is pretty precious, like those videos shot in 1920s. Anyone can watch videos online or download to local for free and without any form of registration.

1ChannelMovie

This site is kinda like a search engine, it doesn't provide any movie itself. When people search a movie on this site, it brings many results from other sites, and will order those results with video quality. After my tests, the collected results indeed work. But I don't like this site, everytime I click on a item, there will pop out a new advertisement window, it's totally boring.

With these 4 sites, we can download thousands of high quality movies for free. And don't forget the PirateBay, eMule, uTorrent and Zune.
